"My passion has always been to work for the underserved, impoverished, and disenfranchised individuals and families that truly need care. This journey will help me continue to grow my knowledge in nursing and provide me with the necessary skills needed to provide patient care in disadvantaged communities similar to those in my childhood."

Kristen Gaumer, CPNP-PC

Monticello, IN

Education, Master's Degree, Purdue University, West Lafayette, IN

Board Certifications

Pediatric Nursing Certification Board-Pediatric Nurse Practitioner

"The personal and professional experiences that I will encounter in this residency will provide even more value in addition to a master's degree. I will use these experiences in my future provider role. I think that enhancing my skillsets in an educational program will be more beneficial to me than learning as I go independently without this hands-on residency program. I can learn more in a shorter amount of time from this program and feel even more prepared to provide care to the vulnerable pediatric population."

Megan McClamroch, FNP-BC

Crawfordsville, IN

Education, Master's Degree, Purdue University, West Lafayette, IN

Board Certifications

American Nurses Credentialing Center-Family Nurse Practitioner

"My patients are my priority and I want to do everything in my power to ensure I am taking the necessary steps to provide that high-quality healthcare that everyone deserves and needs. I believe this residency program will make me a well-rounded provider that is knowledgeable in providing patients with primary care services."

Jennifer Schabel, AGPCNP-BC

Board Certifications

American Nurses Credentialing Center-Adult-Gerontology Primary Care Nurse Practitioner

"I have a strong desire to train and work in a community health center in order to increase my confidence and competence as a nurse practitioner. During my time as a registered nurse in an urban hospital setting, I was privileged to have seemingly unlimited resources at my fingertips. While this experience was valuable, it is imperative to learn how to optimize health in a setting where resources may be less abundant. I strongly feel that community health providers possess the unique ability to rely on their clinical expertise and judgement rather than to defer to excessive and costly testing."
